PRICE ONE CENT.

TIRED OUT!

At this season nearly every one needs to use some sort of tonic. IRON enters into almost every physician's prescription for those who need building up.

For Weakness, Lassitude, Lack of Energy, etc., it HAS NO EQUAL and is the only Iron medicine that is not only a medicine, but a Tonic. It invigorates the System, Restores Appetite, Aids Digestion. It does not blacken or injure the teeth, cause headache or produce constipation—other Iron medicines do.

DR. G. H. BINKLEY, a leading physician of Springfield, says:

Brown's Iron Bitters is a thoroughly good medicine. I use it in my practice, and find its action exceeds all other forms of iron. In weakness, or a nervous system, it is a tonic. It is really a positive necessity. It is all that is claimed for it.

DR. W. N. WATERS, 1219 Thirty-second Street, Georgetown, D. C., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters is the Tonic of the age. Nothing better. It creates appetite, gives strength and improves digestion."

Genuine has above Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no other. Made only by BROWN CHEMICAL CO., BALTIMORE, MD.

REPUBLICAN CAMPAIGN.

GOVERNOR FORAKER SETS THE BALL ROLLING AT CALDWELL, O.

The Political Issues of the Ohio State Campaign Discussed by the Ohio Republican Candidate for Governor—Extracts of His Speech.

CALDWELL, O., Sept. 12.—Governor J. B. Foraker opened the Republican campaign here this afternoon by addressing a large assemblage. His speech was received with great enthusiasm, and the governor was frequently applauded. Below we give a few of the important extracts:

"FELLOW-CITIZENS—We meet here to-day to open another canvass. We are to choose this time only state and county officers. The verdict to be rendered will do more, however, than determine whether we shall have a Republican governor and legislature for the next two years. It will have a distinct and positive effect upon the National election that is to follow next year. For this reason it is appropriate to discuss both state and National questions. The importance of a Republican triumph, so far as the state is concerned, can be well shown by recalling the condition of our affairs at the close of Governor Hoadly's administration and indicating what has been done to remedy the same.

"The expenditures of that administration so far exceeded its revenues as to completely exhaust them, and, in addition, to exhaust also a cash balance of $288,000, turned over to it by Governor Foster, and also to exhaust $650,000 that belonged to the revenues of 1886, which it appropriated by drawing drafts upon county treasurers in anticipation of settlements. The consequence was that this administration commenced with $900,000 less money at its command than its predecessor commenced with. Mr. Powell claims that there was the sum of $111,222.50 in the treasury when I was inaugurated, and that is all the denial he makes to the charge that they turned over to us an empty treasury.

"At that time the public bonded debt of the state was $3,715,000. The interest on this public bonded debt amounted annually to the sum of $193,400.

"We have re-enacted a statute, known as the Dow law, to take the place of the Scott law, as we pledged ourselves to do in the platform of 1885, by which, in addition to its wise provisions for the regulation of the liquor traffic and the suppression of its evils, taxes have been and will be derived for the relief of the burdens of local taxation to the estimated amount of $2,000,000 annually.

"It is also true that under the last administration it cost more by $41.07 per capita to keep 950 inmates of the Central asylum for the insane than it has cost under the present administration, making total difference in this one institution, on a single account, of about $39,000. And yet, notwithstanding all this, Mr. Powell charges that the present administration has been more extravagant to the amount of $3,850 than the last administration was."

"But there are other respects in which the public welfare has been promoted. Never in the history of the state was the good name of Ohio so abused as during the last administration. The senatorial election of Henry B. Payne and the open, notorious and high-handed frauds at the polls and forgeries in the returns of the election of October, 1885, in the cities of Cincinnati and Columbus, at once disgraced and stigmatized the people of the whole state."

Mr. Foraker here went into a detailed account of alleged election frauds in Hamilton county and Columbus, after which he said:

"To briefly recapitulate, therefore, what has been done in state affairs during this state administration: We have rescued the state from bankruptcy and maintained and advanced her credit to the highest point it has ever reached. We have largely reduced the public bonded debt; we have cut down the interest charge so as to make, each year, a saving on that account alone of $87,200; we have stopped the decline of the aggregate of the personal property of the state on the duplicate for taxation; we have largely increased that aggregate, and thus, by bringing new values on the duplicate, have reduced the burden that previously rested on the lands and other visible property of the state. We have greatly checked the growth of local indebtedness, and have, by taxing the liquor traffic, relieved the annual burdens of local taxation to the amount of $2,000,000. We have secured honest elections in all the cities, and we have once more given Cincinnati a creditable government and a good name."

"By various provisions we have sought to discharge our duty toward the soldiers, to whom we are so greatly indebted, and those who are dependent upon them. We are of the opinion that no man who served his country in the hour of trial, at these men did, should be allowed to live or die as a pauper in a county poor house. We accordingly made provision for a soldiers' and sailors' home, and in other ways, of which I shall speak at another time, sought to do our duty toward this class of our citizens.

Governor Foraker then devoted some time to National politics, and President Cleveland. He then said:

"What the people of the north want is entire peace and fraternity for the whole land and the people of every section. But they want this peace and good will on the basis of a complete recognition and acceptance of all the fruits and results of the war, and they will not have it otherwise. They do not want, and will not have anything at the expense of writing down the Union soldiers as a lot of tramps and vagabonds, nor upon the condition that the men who sought to destroy the Union shall be elevated to the same plane of patriotism with the men who saved it. Neither will we be content, so long as there is a systematic denial of right at the ballot box or otherwise to any class whatever of citizens. We are gladly willing to accord to the mass of the men who bore the Confederate banner to battle, the sincerest convictions of duty and the display of the highest possible degree of manly courage and heroic valor, but we are not willing to recognize in any way whatever, in the slightest degree, any act or speech that indicates a changed estimate of the ideals upon which the Confederacy was based, and hence it is that we cannot patiently listen to harsh criticisms of our soldiers, the extolling of Jefferson Davis, or a proposition to surrender, in the way that it was proposed, the rebel battle flags. Whenever those flags are disposed of, if they ever are in our time, the men who captured them should be heard, and they should be so dealt with as to make it sure that they will never be flaunted to the breeze again. Great and broad as our country is, it has room for only one flag, and that shall be the stars and stripes."

On the tariff question Mr. Foraker said:

"I want now to talk awhile about the tariff question. And in the first place I want to call attention to the fact that our Democratic friends have had of late years a great deal of trouble in defining their position with respect to this issue. The truth of the matter has been, however, that while there are many Democrats who are protectionists, yet the party, as such, has all the while been, and is now essentially a free trade party. They have not always had the frankness so to declare themselves, especially not in Ohio. You will remember how in their platforms of 1883-4 they declared in favor of the restoration of the wool tariff of 1867, and how under the leadership of Governor Hoadly, they everywhere gave out the promise to the wool growers that if restored to power, they would restore that tariff. But they have been restored to power and the wool tariff has not been changed.

"Mr. Powell makes another statement which would be astonishing if made by any one else. I quote his exact language:

"By another resolution the Republican party at Toledo declared that the public lands of the United States should be sacredly held for the use and benefit of actual settlers alone."

"This means, when applied to actual facts that they condemn the entire record of the Republican party while they were in control of national affairs, and approve the administration of President Cleveland and that of every other Democratic administration which preceded him. Until the Republican party came into power not one acre of the public lands had ever been granted to railroads or other corporations."

"It is not exactly true to answer this matter at this point, but inasmuch as I am noticing others of his statements it is convenient to notice now this one also. The truth is that the Republican party did not come into power until March 4, 1861, and prior to that time, and subsequent to 1850, there had been forty-three congressional grants of public lands to railroad corporations, all made by Democratic administrations and aggregating more than 32,000,000 acres or about three-fifths of all the lands that have ever been granted, leaving out of the account the Pacific railroad grants, which both parties favored. The further truth is that it was the Democratic party that inaugurated the policy of making land grants to railroads, and it should be remembered that it was the policy of this party, at the same time, to oppose and refuse homesteads to actual settlers."

Governor Foraker spoke for some time on the subject of tariff protection, and finished his speech by saying:

"Give the American people a chance and they will outstrip all the world in manufacture, as in everything else. Universal education, the responsibility of citizenship and civic and political equality all alike combine to make our people intelligent, enterprising, inventive, self-reliant and progressive. The result is that we can devise better facilities and invent better machinery, produce the most skilled and ingenious workers, and ultimately successfully challenge all the world to competition with us, even should the rest of the world continue to stand where it is. But the rest of the world will not stand still. The battle we are fighting is not and has not been for us alone. It is for all humanity. By refusing to let our labor down to the condition of labor in other countries we have not only done a good thing for our people, but for humanity all the world over. From every country the people are looking to us, and in every land they are struggling to lift themselves to our plane. As a result they have a republic in France, universal manhood suffrage in Germany, and by-and-by they will have home rule in Ireland, and great advancement for the masses in every civilized country of the globe. Let us continue to hold up the standard. We have truly a great country. This wise policy has made it such. We have 60,000,000 of people now, and shall have hundreds of millions who are coming with the swift fleeting years of time. Let us do our duty with the same patriotism, zeal and fidelity that have been displayed in the past, and there will be for the coming generations, not only a union of states with one flag and one constitution, but a union of hearts, filled with gratitude for the work we have accomplished and a determined purpose that it shall abide through the centuries, to bestow its unspeakable blessings on all those who may come after us."

RUN OUT OF MONEY.

SILVERTON, Col., Sept. 12.—T. S. Turner, of New York, has been appointed receiver of the Montezuma Water Supply company. The stockholders are principally eastern men. The company undertook to run a tunnel through the mountains to secure water from the Dolores river to irrigate a large tract of land. The proposed tunnel is over one mile long, and four-fifths of it has been completed. The means of the company being exhausted and the creditors pressing, a receiver was appointed to save the property of the stock. They have expended nearly $400,000 in the work.

THE CONDITION OF CROPS.

A STATEMENT FROM THE AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT.

Heavy Reduction in Cotton, Corn and Potatoes—Average by States of Other Crops—Mr. Randall Refuses to Talk Tariff—Medical Congress Adjourns.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The statistical report of the department of agriculture for September presents a heavy reduction in condition of cotton, corn and potatoes with little change in the status of wheat and other small grains. The high promise of the cotton crop has been reduced over ten points from 93.3 to 82.8, the effect of the excessive rains on the Atlantic coast and drought on the gulf states. Serious shedding of bolls has resulted from both causes. The ball worm and caterpillar have a wide distribution, doing some damage already, and threatening still heavier loss. The state averages are: Virginia, 83; North Carolina, 80; South Carolina, 89; Georgia, 84; Florida, 88; Alabama, 81; Mississippi, 84; Louisiana, 86; Texas, 77; Arkansas, 83; Tennessee, 78.

There is a further loss in condition of maize from 80.5 to 73.3 percent, four points lower than last year's crop in September. The memorable crop failure of 1881, was indicated by 60 in September and 66 in October, some improvement having resulted from more favorable conditions. The depreciation is nearly all in the west. The states of the Atlantic coast and those of the gulf report larger crops than those of last year, already beyond the reach of disaster.

In the seven corn surplus states the average of last month was 74, now 64. The figures are: Ohio, 63; Indiana, 61; Illinois, 57; Iowa, 78; Missouri, 67; Kansas, 42; Nebraska, 72. The average of New York and Pennsylvania is 96; Georgia, 94; Texas, 88; Tennessee, 80, and Kentucky 60.

There is a slight reduction of winter and spring wheat when harvested is 82, last year 87.8, in 1886, 72. In the spring wheat region Dakota returns 89, a small grain; Minnesota and Wisconsin, 72; Iowa, 71, and Nebraska, 76, a slight reduction from last month. The increase of acreage will make the difference less than the present crop and that of last year.

The average for rye is 82.2. That of oats, 83.4, against 85.6 last month, showing slight decline. The average for barley is 83, against 86.2 last month. A reduction in buckwheat has occurred from 93 last month to 89.

The average of condition for potatoes is very much reduced from 80.8 last month to 67.8. This is four points lower than in 1881, and the lowest record for

THE law closes every saloon in the State on Sunday. We don't know how it is elsewhere, but here in Maysville it is more honored in the breach than in the observance.

THE Union Labor Party, of Covington, held their convention Saturday, and placed a full ticket in the field for the city election in October. The resolutions adopted condemn every thing in sight except the Union Labor Party.

GOVERNOR BUCKNER has appointed G. G. Hamilton, of Bath County, State delegate from this (the Ninth) district to the Farmers' Congress to be held at Chicago, November 1st to 5th. J. W. Campbell, of Nicholas County, is the alternate.

SAYS the Frankfort Capital: "James N. Kehoe, of Maysville, is a candidate for Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate. Mr. Kehoe is a young man of fine qualifications for the place and great popularity in his section. If elected, will make a model officer."

THE Enquirer is the authority for the statement that over three thousand men in Cincinnati don't pay their tailor bills. If all the dead-beats in the country who won't pay their bills could be got together in one body they would outnumber the largest army ever led to battle.

CAPTAIN JAMES HEFLIN is announced as a candidate for re-election to the office of City Marshal. He has had large experience as a public officer, and has achieved considerable reputation for clever detective work. He is popular with the people, and since he is familiar with city politics will make a very strong candidate.

ALTHOUGH the city election is about four months off, the candidates are still hurrying to the front. After the election most of them will be hurrying to the rear. With the exception of Deputy Marshals, we believe all the officials are now elected by popular vote. The approaching election promises to be lively, with a contest for each office. We hope in each case the best man may win.

HON. ALBERT GALLATIN TALBOTT, of Boyle County, died Friday in Philadelphia at the home of his wife's relatives, having married an accomplished young lady in that city about a year ago. Mr. Talbott was seventy-nine years old, and to the time of his last illness a hale, hearty specimen of the gentleman of the olden time. He was a member of the last Constitutional Convention of Kentucky, and next a member of the Legislature from Boyle. In 1855 he was elected to Congress, and at the expiration of his term was re-elected. In 1869 he was a member of the State Senate, and in 1883 served in the House, devoting all of his energies during the session to an attempted regulation of the liquor traffic.

Rowan Heard From.

Saturday morning at Morehead, Burt Tolliver, the fifteen-year-old son of the late Craig Tolliver, shot and badly wounded John Walters, aged sixteen. It seems these two boys in company with a fifteen-year-old boy named John Dillon, were about half-past eight that morning, engaged in target-shooting with a pistol, a quarter of a mile from Morehead, when Tolliver shot Walters in the head, inflicting a wound which is undoubtedly fatal. Whether it was an accident or not can not now be determined. Neither of the boys has been arrested. The affair created considerable excitement as soon as the news of the occurrence became known, but there is no fear of trouble growing out of it, as the wounded boy's father does not nor never has belonged to either of the factions.

To the Farmers of Mason and Other Counties.

PARIS, Ky., September, 5th, 1887. We do not believe in, nor do we desire, to enter into business controversies. We would prefer to get along peacefully and quietly, with our competitors; but it becomes necessary, we must proclaim our rights and stand by them. We are exclusively in the Hedge Fence Business, and the success of our enterprise, extending over a period of nearly thirty years, has caused imitations and infringers to spring up in different parts of the country, who propose to construct hedges on so-called "new plans," at less than our standard price. These parties, almost without exception, have no experience whatever in the art of hedge growing and training, and a majority of them would not recognize a hedge plant should they meet it in the road. One W. M. Viser, who claims to be a "practical hedge man," got a patent on a system of hedge fencing something over a year ago. He was formerly an agent for us and got his ideas from our plans. He adopts the essential features of our system in bending the canes, but proposes to change the superstructure by bending the canes in opposite directions and nailing them together, forming a diamond lattice; expecting, in the smallness of his knowledge of the growth of the hedge plant, that this plan will, in time, make a serviceable hedge fence. This little rivet, or rail, which he proposes to drive through the hearts of the canes to hold them together, is worth more, in his estimation, than all other appliances which have required years of patient toil and the outlay of enormous capital to perfect and bring into practical use.

We do not object to fair and honorable competition; and not a word would have been said or published by us, concerning Mr. Viser and his wonderful patent had he proceeded in a legitimate and honorable way to prosecute his business. But this has not done. He resorted to questionable means and misrepresentations in the very outset, and in addition has sought patronage upon our reputation, and has even gone so far as to use our testimonials as a recommendation of his great hedge fence—that is to be—(in his mind). We know what we are writing about; hence we make these assertions. Now let us proceed with the proof. The following testimonial was given to the Dayton Hedge Company, of Dayton, O., of which The Paris Hedge Company, of Paris, Ky., is an established branch on the day and date it bears. The additional certificate of the gentlemen signing it explains itself:

MAYSVILLE, Ky., July 15th, 1885. At the solicitation of Mr. W. M. Viser, agent of the Dayton Hedge Company, the undersigned citizens and farmers of Mason County, Ky., visited the city of Dayton, Montgomery County, Ohio, July 14th, 1885, to examine the hedge they grow and to inquire into the solvency and reliability of said company. Said committee made a careful examination of a number of the completed fences in the immediate vicinity of Dayton, and for report say they are highly pleased with the manner of constructing said fences; they regard it a cheap and economical fence. It occupies a small amount of ground, and is a very ornamental fence, and we believe they have perfect control of the growth of said fences. The hedge does not interfere with or retard the growth of crops immediately up to it; nor does it spread at the base. Upon investigation we find that after the completion of said fences in accordance with the contract of said company, the expense of trimming and keeping it in repair is really less than the cost of repairing and keeping up ordinary rail fences. As to the financial standing of said company we find

We certify that the above is a true copy of the original testimonial given to Mr. W. M. Viser, July 15, 1885, while he was agent for the Dayton Hedge Company, of Dayton, Ohio, and that the fence we saw and refer to in said testimonial was constructed by the said Dayton Hedge Company, on its patented plans; and we further certify that we have signed no testimonial recommending any other system of hedge fencing. The certificate appended to the above testimonial would not be necessary but for the reason that Mr. Viser has appropriated the testimonial and by abbreviating and changing it has made it appear in a circular, together with his cut and other matter, as a recommendation of his wonderful, imaginary hedge fence. Here is the testimonial as he is using it:

MAYSVILLE, Ky., July 15th, 1885. At the solicitation of Mr. W. M. Viser, the undersigned citizens and farmers of Mason County, Ky., visited the city of Dayton, Montgomery County, Ohio, July 14th, 1885, to examine the hedge they grow. Said committee made a careful examination of a number of the completed fences in the immediate vicinity of Dayton, and for report say they are highly pleased with the manner of constructing said fences; they regard it a cheap and economical fence. It occupies a small amount of ground and is at the same time very ornamental. The hedge does not interfere with or retard the growth of crops immediately up to it; nor does it spread at the base. Upon investigation we find that after the completion of said fences the expense of trimming and keeping it in repair is really less than the cost of repairing and keeping up ordinary rail fences.

The object to deceive and mislead is so palpable that a child may see it. In his circular also appears the statement that his company "challenges the world, to an honorable competition," and immediately under this broad challenge he inserts a bogus testimonial, attaching to it the names of some of the leading citizens of Mason County—gentlemen of honor and character—who would scorn to lend themselves to the slightest perversions of the truth. In the name of justice, is this what he calls "honorable competition?"

The statement also appears in the circular referred to that they "build the very best Hedge Fence for $80 per mile less than any other company in this country." This is all buncombe. In the first place Mr. Viser's Company has never made a rod of fence, and of course its merits have never been tested. In the second place we have, as Mr. Viser well knows, a number of patented plans which have been in use for several years, and on which we construct hedge fences at $1 per rod, in four annual payments, and they make good, serviceable fences, but do not compare for strength and beauty with our combined wire and hedge fence, which stands without a peer, and is cheaper at twice its price than any $1 per rod hedge fence that can be constructed. We are an established branch of The Dayton Hedge Company; we use the same testimonials, the same tools, the same applications, work under and own the same patents, and build the same kind of fence at the same price. We ask the people to investigate us; examine our completed fences, and study our system before placing their orders with new and untried concerns.

Respectfully,

All "Played Out."

"Don't know what ails me lately. Can't eat well—can't sleep well. Can't work, and don't enjoy doing anything. Ain't really sick, and I really ain't well. Feel all kind of played out, somewhat." That is what scores of men say every day. If they would take Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" they would soon have no occasion to say it. It purifies the blood, tones up the system and fortifies it against disease. It is a great anti-bilious remedy as well.

A Captain's Fortunate Discovery.

Capt. Coleman, schr. Weymouth, plying between Atlantic City and N. Y., had been troubled with a cough so that he was unable to sleep, and was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption. It not only gave him instant relief, but allayed the extreme soreness in his breast. His children were similarly affected and a single dose had the same happy effect. Dr. King's New Discovery is now the standard remedy in the Coleman household and on board the schooner. Free trial bottles of this standard remedy at the drug stores of J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co., at Avondale, Ohio.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

Quarantine Against Cook County, Illinois, Cattle Not to Be Raised.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 12.—The state live stock commission was to have held a meeting here last night, but on account of the absence of Hon. B. W. Carlisle, of Lancaster, the regular meeting was postponed until Monday next. The other members, Judge T. C. Jones, of Delaware, and Dr. Kinsman, of this city, held an informal meeting and decided not to comply with the request of the secretary of the Chicago stock yards, asking that the quarantine adopted against Cook county, on account of pleuro-pneumonia prevalent there, be raised. The grounds of the refusal are embodied principally in a letter of the date of August 15, and addressed to Governor Foraker, in reply to a request by him for information upon which to base a reply to the communication from the governor of Illinois, asking for the raising of the quarantine against Cook county.

The letter is an exhaustive statement of the reasons against granting the request, and completely justifies the commission in its action. It seems that there are still several thousand cases of chronic pleuro-pneumonia among the cattle of Chicago, though there are no acute cases at present. Instances are cited of the existence of the disease in other states, whence it is sufficiently probable that it was carried from Chicago, to justify the board in retaining the quarantine for a while longer. In the letter to which with which the communication to the governor is inclosed the commission gives the reasons for believing that since August 15 nothing has occurred to justify them from departing from the conclusions then arrived at.

Another Railroad Deal.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—The Boston Advertiser gives details of a big railroad deal, which has been maturing for some months: The New York, New Haven & Hartford, or Consolidated and the Boston & Albany railroads have agreed upon a consolidation of interests, that will secure to them the bulk of the passenger business between New York and Boston, absorbing between them the New York & New England and Norwich & Worcester lines, giving them both a boat via Norwich and an all-rail line via Springfield. The ownership of the Consolidated and the Boston & Albany roads is substantially the same, and together it controls a majority of the New York & New England stock. The Consolidated is to complete its four tracks to New Haven, straighten all curves and modify the grades, shortening the running time between Boston and New York city to four hours and a half. The consolidation will have an important effect on through freight and foreign shipping.

He Staid in the Ranks.

Mr. Frank Hatton, editor of The Chicago Mail, frequently spends a month at the Fifth Avenue hotel. Decoration Day he was asked why he did not parade. "Parade!" he asked, the fire flashing from his eyes. "Why, I have had enough marching. The war satisfied me for all time to come. I will not even march in a political parade, much less join a military organization. That kind of glitter and outward show may have an effect upon the hoi polloi, but not upon me. I went into the war when I was 16, and carried a musket. I was willing to march then. One day an officer, whom I knew, asked me if I did not desire to do staff duty. I asked him if that meant I was to become an orderly. I answered yes. I told him that I had rather be a private any day and carry my musket than an orderly to hold the horses for a lot of officers. I continued in the ranks.

A Prison Warden's Shortage.

SANTA FE, N. M., Sept. 12.—Thomas P. Gable, warden of the Territorial penitentiary, has been suspended on account of a shortage in his accounts, variously estimated at from $5,000 to $12,000. He has made no reports since last November, and charged with selling penitentiary made brick, and failing to account for the proceeds.

It is rumored that there will soon be another match game of base ball between the "Record Breakers" and the "Young Men's Fair Company." It is needless to add that they will play before an immense audience. Our dramatic reporter has been ordered to attend the game.

SOME excitement was created on Wall street yesterday morning by a kicking horse attached to a break cart and driven by a negro man. The horse commenced to kick and cut up near the ice factory, when it suddenly broke and ran towards Third street. The driver held on bravely and soon quieted his restless animal.

RIFPE & TAYLOR, successors to Rife & Henderson, have a stock of drugs, medicines and chemicals at wholesale and retail. Pure wines and liquors. Toilet articles and stationery of every description. Sponges, chamois, face powders and perfumes, brushes, &c. Your patronage solicited. Prescriptions filled day and night.

It will be gratifying to the many friends of Rev. A. L. Powell, to learn that he is being well received in Louisville, and is making a fine impression on all his audiences. The Louisville papers speak in complimentary terms of his sermons, and we doubt not but that he will become as popular in Louisville as he was in Maysville.

REV. S. S. DEERING has removed from Mt. Olivet to Covington, and will quit preaching. The Robertson County Democrat says: "He is now quite an old man and has been preaching for fifty years. During his time no minister in the State has done more for the cause of religion or stood higher before the people in his calling. He is now about worn out and needs rest and quiet, and we hope that his last days may be as full of joy and rest as his whole life has been of activity and usefulness."

OPINION is much divided about the effect the building of the railroad along Front street will have on the value of Front street property. One thing at least is certain, and that is that the stone and iron work is of the very best sort, and of itself no especial nuisance to persons living on that street. It yet remains to be seen whether the operating of trains will in any way depreciate the value of property along the street. It is the opinion of many that the iron tressel will improve the general appearance of the river front.

THE services at the M. E. Church, South, yesterday were unusually interesting. Mr. Beardsley preached one of his best sermons, it being the last before Conference, at night the services consisted of the sacrament of the Lord's Supper. The floral offerings were exceedingly beautiful. One very handsome piece was presented to Mr. Beardsley. The congregation in Church Conference passed resolutions commending the labors of the pastor and requesting the Bishop presiding at the Conference in Covington, to return him for another year.

The resolutions were passed with enthusiasm.

Baird's Minstrels.

Baird's Minstrels will appear at the opera house to-morrow night. In speaking of them, the Providence, R. I., News says:

"Baird always has a good show, but the one this year excels all previous efforts. His entertainments never deteriorate, but like good wine improve with age. This fact was fully demonstrated last night by the ovation he received from our amusement-goers filling the opera house in ever nook and corner. As for the programme, is not a look, act or gesture that we would desire changed; everything is past excellence. Lew Benedict, an old-time favorite, has lost none of his pleasing qualities, and is ably assisted in the funny business by a dozen comedians. If Baird's minstrels are not the best on the road they are certainly the best that came to this city."

Stock and Crops.

At J. H. Shanks' sale near Mayslick, September 8th, the following prices prevailed. Three-year-old cattle brought $64.75 per head, average weight 1,550 pounds. Two-year-old cattle brought $44. per head, average weight 1,020.

Yearling cattle, $20.75 per head. Shoats weighing between fifty and sixty pounds brought $3.50 per head. Cows and calves averaged from $20 to $40 per head.

Old corn sold at 6½ cents per bushel. Horses sold from $25 to $100, a head.

Hay brought from $7 to $14, per stack. Sheep, from $1.50 to $4.50, the latter Southdown.

Fifty acres of growing corn sold for $6.50 per acre.

Death of Mrs. Allie Thompson.

Mrs. Nannie M. Thompson died of heart disease, after a few hours illness, at the residence of her husband, Mr. Allie H. Thompson, in this city, yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Deceased was a daughter of William and Susan McAtee, of this county, and had been married ten years last January.

Many will recollect the sad loss to Mr. and Mrs. Thompson some time ago of their only child, little Jimmie, and who shall tell us of the glad meeting between mother and child to-day. How many a heart is waiting as patiently as it can for such a meeting?

Mrs. Thompson was a member of the Christian Church, in this city, a kind neighbor and a devoted wife. This is the first time death has entered her father's family, and they are sorrow-stricken, and to him who has lost his child, recently his father and now his wife, with a sad heart, a desolate home, the sympathy of this whole community is tendered in his sudden and sad bereavement.

Her funeral will take place at the family residence on Second street at 4 o'clock p. m. to-day. Services will be conducted by Rev. R. B. Garrett.

An End to Bone Scraping.

Edward Shephard, of Harrisburg, Ill., says: "Having received so much benefit from Electric Bitters, I feel it my duty to let suffering humanity know it. Have had a running sore on my leg for eight years; say doctors told me I would have to have the bone scraped or leg amputated. I used, instead, three bottles of Electric Bitters and seven boxes Bucklen's Arnica Salve, and my leg is now sound and well."

Electric Bitters are sold at fifty cents a bottle, and Bucklen's Arnica Salve at 25c per box by J. C. Pecor & Co., and S. P. Campbell & Co. of Aberdeen Ohio.

GENERAL FOREIGN NEWS.

THE TORIES ARE IGNORING LORD RANDOLPH CHURCHILL.

How He Has Kicked the Foundation Out From Under His Own Feet—Serious Riot at Mitcheltown—Two Men Killed and Many Others Wounded.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—The erratic course of Lord Randolph Churchill since the time when he severed his connection with the government upon the shallow pretext of disagreeing with his colleagues upon questions of economy, has so thoroughly dissipated the small following he was at that time able to command, that the leaders of the Tory party are disposed to ignore his claims to leadership altogether and dispense entirely with his counsel for the future.

In the height of his power, influence and reputation as a politician, Lord Churchill commanded a personal following that was insignificant at the best, and apart from such influence as he would wield through his pyrotechnic oratory, his ability to mold opinion was next to nothing. He possessed a certain combination of impudence and arrogance which has been described by injudicious friends and thoughtless correspondents as "dash," and for a time interested and subsidized mediums of public expression were wont to allude to him as the "brilliant young Tory leader," though it must be confessed that his youth was infinitely more strongly employed by his antecedents than his years. Infatuated by adulation and the success which attended his brief career of insolence and humbuggery, his lordship indulged in dreams of occupying the premiership at no distant day, and went into training for that exalted post by assuming a dictatorial manner toward his colleagues.

The insufferable airs of the man were quickly resented by his fellow ministers, and to punish them for their temerity the bombastic chancellor of the exchequer attempted to remonstrate what appeared to him to be the fact that he was indispensable. Ascending to the high ground of assailing his colleagues for wantonly squandering the people's money, and failing to convince his colleagues of his superior virtues, he kicked the foundation from under his feet, expecting to retain his exalted position through the buoyancy of the wind, distended person, but his ideas of the laws of gravitation were as faulty as his estimate of his own importance, and both he and his opportunities were simultaneously precipitated earthward. He has since recovered from the effects of his fall, but he has never been able to remove the effects of the shock caused by the discovery that the wheels of government were still in motion, despite the withdrawal of his mighty power.

Since his retirement from office Lord Churchill has blown hot and cold with such unceasing persistence in the face of all efforts to confine him to one party or another, as to suggest an incurable case of chills and fever, and now that his following consists solely of his shadow, and that only when the solar conditions are favorable, he has ceased to be considered as a power in British politics.

Riot at Mitcheltown.

DUBLIN, Sept. 12.—The indignation meeting at Mitcheltown resulted more seriously yesterday than was anticipated. Seven thousand people had assembled, when a government stenographer, under an escort of sixty policemen, attempted to push through the crowd, which resisted and, aided by a body of Nationalists on horseback, drove the military into their barracks. Here they turned and fired into the crowd, killing two and injuring several. Receiving reinforcements, the police charged on the crowd with fixed bayonets and dispersed the people.

The English papers lay the blame on O'Brien, Davitt and Labouchere, whose language incited the mob.

John Dillon says he was in the police barracks at the time of the shooting. He saw the police attempting to murder a prisoner, and witnessed the police firing out of a barracks window at persons hundreds of yards distant, though no attack had been made on the barracks.

It is now learned that there is a larger number of wounded than at first reported. It is said that O'Brien was arrested yesterday and there is great excitement in Dublin.

The police blame the Nationalist leaders for shooting to the men. There is but little excitement in the town to-day. Little groups of men are standing on the corners discussing the fight and boasting of personal prowess. One Tipperary lad alone broke up a square of twelve policemen. The police gave a parade this morning, but presented a sorry appearance, many being partly done up in bandages. Fourteen of them are now in the hospital under care.

Munchrath's Trial Commenced.

SIOUX CITY, Iowa, Sept. 12.—The trial of Fred Munchrath for the murder of the Rev. George C. Haddock began in earnest yesterday morning. The court room was crowded. Munchrath appeared greatly agitated when brought into court. He was defended by George W. Argos, of Le Mars. County Attorney Marsh conducted the prosecution. E. W. Hubbard presented the case to the jury in behalf of the state. Deputy Sheriff Davenport was the first witness for the state. He testified that Munchrath was at the court house the afternoon of the injunction trial preceding the murder, and was hobnobbing with Leavitt, Trierer and the other defendants. In the main his testimony, while more directly pointing to Munchrath, is about the no as was given in the Arnsdorf trial. The next witness will be the chief of police, Nelson, who arrested "Bismarck" in San Francisco.

The stock market was fairly active this morning, 148,000 shares changing hands. The early dealings were marked by a display of strength on the part of some of the leading stocks, but toward 11 o'clock there was some selling, and prices began to decline. The downward movement was accelerated by the appearance of the bank statement which showed a decrease in the reserve of 1,000,000. The closing prices were about the lowest of the morning, and as compared with the closing figures of yesterday, showing decline ranging from 1/2 to 7/8 per cent.
